

CHARADES GAME

Perfect game to play while waiting for your flight in an airport

The goal of Charades is to guess the word that one player is acting out, without them speaking or making any sounds.

How to Play:

1. Decide which team will go first and choose one player from that team to be the first actor.
2. The chosen actor chooses a word from the table below and reads the word or phrase silently. They must not show it to anyone.
3. The actor must act out the word using only gestures. They cannot speak, make sounds, or use props.
4. Others try to guess the word based on the gestures. The actor can use gestures to indicate if they are close or far from the correct answer.
5. Continue playing until everyone has had a chance to act, or until all words in the table have been used.
